

Mac| Station

Mac-Station is the first ergonomically designed modular partition system with "Open Architecture". Allowing you the ability to adjust desk height, cabinet configuration, and shelf fixtures at a moments notice to meet the demands of the progressive office and home environments.

Integrating the beauty of fine hard wood with the strength of metal, and yet having the warmth and appeal of cloth makes Mac-Station eye catching. Mac-Station is not only appealing and ergonomically built, but is also designed so that shipment anywhere in the continental United States can be performed with minimal expense using common carriers like United Parcel Service(UPS). There are a few assembly requirements, but with the simple instructions and a little time you should have your own Mac-Station.
